RACE OVERVIEW

With #6 May Mischief scratched, #3 and #5 supply the forward pressure. #1 can save ground close behind; #2 is the main late threat. A sharper-than-expected duel upgrades #2, but the EARLY bias supports a controlled #5 trip.

FAVORITE

5 BUCKIN' RIGHT

MORNING-LINE FAVORITE | 1.6/1

Favorite Vulnerability Score: 2.25 | MODERATE

Longshot: #2 Spooky Gal, #5 Buckin' Right

#5 cuts back from a mile and makes her first Parx start; her six-furlong record is 1-for-7. #2 brings a sloppy-track 78 and must transfer that finish to dry dirt. #4 has a useful freshening-work signal and now qualifies C in the reduced field.

BEAVER / EXOTIC VIEW

Editorial finish 5,1,2. Beaver prefers #5 at 5/2; effective A horses are #1 and #5; #2 is owner B. Both Steve trifecta plans are on owner HOLD. The current 8/5 morning line is below the editorial play floor. #1 is the rail-stalking alternative, while a tiring front group gives #2 the better opportunity.

Longshot: #6 Moor Strength

#4 Shetalkstomuch drops from $25,000 company and has recent 80/81 speed figures, but her slow starts create a trip dependency. #5 has 84/82 figures in consecutive wins and leads PP; the stronger claiming level and extra distance are the tests.

BEAVER / EXOTIC VIEW

Editorial finish 5,2,4. Beaver price watch: #5 at 3/1 or more. Frozen A is #4, so the two approaches favor different winning trips. #2 has three straight wins but changes circuit. Both Steve trifecta plans are on owner HOLD. Keep the editorial opinion separate from the model grades.

BEAVER / EXOTIC VIEW

Editorial finish 5,2,4 and frozen A #5 agree. Beaver requires at least 8/5 and a clean pace picture. Both Steve trifecta plans are on owner HOLD. Avoid treating lone speed as an automatic win. #1 becomes more relevant if #2 unexpectedly presses hard; #6 still supplies measured finishing strength.
